Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0315880A2] A dispensing device or pump for viscous and other fluent material such as toothpaste or food, wherein part or all of the components are made of a terpolymer of ethylene, propylene and diene, most preferably material of that type sold by Monsanto under the Trademark "Santoprene". Such a material has a better flexibility and a lower flavor absorption than the materials commonly used for this type of dispenser.
