Abstract (en)

An armor plate wall structure for safes, security spaces at banks, and the like, being of a type which comprises an outer wall (2) and an inner wall (3) set at a fixed distance apart and defining an interspace (4) therebetween adapted to be filled with a security material (3), further comprises a plurality of brackets (11) made rigid with the outer wall (2) and extending vertically cantilever-fashion therefrom toward the interspace (4) over the full height of the wall (2). This structure (1) can validly resist attacks performed with the so-called de-lamination or exfoliation technique.
