Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0319969A1] The device comprises a housing which can move on at least three castors (8) and which possesses a top panel (1a, 2a) for depositing tools and workpieces, ready for use, and at least one storage space for tools and small items, which is accessible through a closable opening. The housing is formed by two housing parts (1, 2) which are each pivotable about a verticle pin (3) between a closed position and an open position allowing access to the storage space. At least one housing part (1) is provided at least partially with an inclined bearing surface (4). The other housing part (2) is fitted with storage shelves (5) and/or storage trays (6) and/or drawers (7). <IMAGE>
