Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8900825A1] A process for manufacturing furniture made from aluminium alloys, for apartments, offices, schools, etc., is described. Said furniture is made exclusively from aluminium alloys and is composed of panels (1) which are assembled together. The panels consist of at least two aluminium alloy sheets (A, B) at least one of which is anodized on one surface. The sheets are maintained essentially parallel to each other by spacers (3) and are arranged so as to form a common rim, a frame (2) of aluminium alloy profiles being fixed along this common rim.
