Abstract (en)

Tile covering in which tile feet 7 of connecting, removably fitted tiles 6 in the absence of a hydraulically set composition are fixed in a casing 11 designed as a tile carrier 2 and having a bottom 3 and raised edges 5 which mate with the tile feet 7. The raised edges 5 slope outwards, while the tile feet are therefore provided with the same bevel. When a casing 11 with bottom 3 is used, it is provided with drainage holes 21. If the raised edges 5 are not connected to a bottom 3, the edges 5 form a fixing frame. The bottom side of the casing 11, preferably made of a thermoplastic material, can be supported by a bearing element 22 of elastic material which itself rests on a roof surface 23. The bottom 3 of the casing 11 can be provided with an adhesive layer 1, in particular containing soundproofing material, and said adhesive layer can be fixed by projections 13 from the bottom 3 which can engage in recesses 14 of the adhesive layer.
