Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0330003A1] Screw extruder comprising a screw (1) consisting of two sections (11, 12), the connection of which is provided by a surface-bearing coupling which is held under prestress using a safety device. The second screw part (12) at the free screw end consists of wear-resistant material, in which the dimensions of the screw core, screw thread and of the screw end are in conformity with the requirements of the material to be extruded. <IMAGE>
