Abstract (en)

This support (3), made from synthetic material, allows a flower box (1) to be hooked to the handrail (4) of a balcony balustrade (2). The main body (5) of the support (3) comprises an upright (9), provided at its lower section with a bracket (10) supporting the weight of the flower box (1). At its upper section, the upright (9) is provided with two superimposed horizontal arms (11, 12), connected to each other by a vertical bar (6) which is removable and adjustable in position. The handrail (4) is thus surrounded by the upper section of the upright (9), the two arms (11, 12) and the bar (6), with a possibility of adjustment according to the width (D) of the handrail (4). <IMAGE>
