Abstract (en)
The band is formed from two strap parts (belts) (1, 2) carrying a plurality of holes (6) along their central line. A buckle (4) carrying a button (5) intended to be inserted into the holes can be moved over the inner strap part (2) of the band so as to be positioned opposite the watch. In the closed state of the band, the button (5) passes through the two strap parts (1, 2) via the holes in the latter and holds these strap parts assembled together.
