Abstract (en)

The manufacturing process of footwear 1 entails the preparation of a vamp 2, followed by that of a mid-sole 3, provided with its facing of seats 6. The mid-sole 3 is attached by stitching to the vamp 2 and then a strip 5 is formed, with a facing provided with raised layers 8 corresponding to the seats 6, this strip then becomes part of the sole 4 during its manufacturing. The vamp 2 is initially attached to the sole 4, by pairing together the mid-sole 3 and the strip 5. Lastly the sole is finally stitched to the vamp.
