Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0346305A2] An extractable drawer (3) for household oven appliances is slidably housed in a hollow space (6) under the oven door (2) and is usually hidden from view, when closed, by a tiltable door (5). The drawer (3) has a peripheral upper edge which protrudes on both sides for resting on a pair of wheels (11), rotatably mounted about aligned axes on opposite sides of the hollow (6). Guide means are provided on the lower side, such as slotted blocks (15) on the drawer cooperating with side guides (13) integral with the walls of hollow space (6).
