Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0346631A1] A device for dispensing liquid and powder detergents, in particular for dishwashing machines. The dispensing device (10) is suited to be fitted in an aperture of an internal wall (11) of the wash chamber of the machine, particularly in the wall (11) of the loading door. The dispensing device (10) is provided with peripheral walls (13) and elastically yielding tongue members (15) having step shaped front portion (17) securing the dispensing device (10) to the edge of the aperture of said internal wall (11); a clamping frame member (20) resting against the wall (11) of the machine fits on the outside around at least part of peripheral walls (13) of the dispensing device (10), the clamping frame (20) in its turn, is provided with elastically flexible lugs (22) which will come into contact with the step shaped portion (17) of said tongue members (15), and wedging member (24) inserted into the space (25) between an outer side wall (13) and corresponding tongue members (15) of the dispensing device (10) of the dispensing device (10).
