Abstract (en)

A watering system display stand 10 which has a display panel 11 which depicts a variety of garden plants. An irrigation system 25 comprising interconnected component parts is also mounted on the display panel 11 to visually portray a typical mocha, instructional watering system for garden plants. Trays 14, numerically coded to match corresponding codes imprinted adjacent corresponding component parts of the irrigation system are mounted below the display panel 11 for holding the appropriate components for purchase by the consumer. Rolls of porting and drip 28 and 29 tubing are mounted on the stand 10 below the trays 14. The trays are suitably formed from scored paperboard blanks that are folded to form interlocked panels.
