Abstract (en)
A carrying device for transporting fluids such as chemical dyes formed of an outer lightweight container and at least two inner containers (3) for the fluid held tightly together within the outer container (4). To enable the device to be transported without handling damage being caused to the outer container, the two inner containers are held together within the outer container by means of a linking handle (1) which may be used to transport the inner containers and the outer container as a single unit.
