Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0358906A2] There is provided a coated hand-iron sole plate which preferably consists of an aluminium alloy and the corrosion-preventing coating of which, preferably consisting of a hard nickel alloy, has an extremely scratch-resistant, easily slideable and easily cleanable surface. The coating is preferably applied by a high-velocity flame-spraying process and is subsequently preferably ground and polished by a drag-grinding process. <IMAGE>
