Abstract (en)
[origin: US5152307A] A travel size vanity case with a plurality of chambers for holding removable toilet articles or the like, which may be used advantageously in travelling. Each article is accessible at a unique location on the sidewalls of the case. At least one of said sidewalls is formed integrally with at least one the removable toilet article, creating a continuous closed outer surface. Other toilet articles are removable from at least one openable flap in the sidewall.
