Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0369348A2] In a transverse gluing device with a gluing cylinder (4) which is provided with gluing nozzles (6) arranged along a generating line and which rolls along the web (2a) which surrounds it partially, a precise application of the adhesive can be guaranteed and a dirtying of the web (2a) can be avoided in that the circumference of the gluing cylinder (4) can be wiped off by a wiping device (7) which contains at least one, preferably moistenable, wiping cloth (10) and which is arranged in the region of the spandrel-type space between the gluing cylinder (4) and the web (2a) which runs away from the latter. <IMAGE>
