Abstract (en)

Mixed cargo vessel comprising at least one oil tank, fully separated from any other cargo deck, for example for roll-on/roll-off vessels. All piping from any oil tank is passed through the superstructure, fully separated from all other cargo. The oil tank is provided with a manhole with cooperating passageway for inspection, maintenance and cleaning. Optionally the oil tank may be used for other bulk material, in which case the tank should be of a material inert for all intended bulk material, preferably stainless steel.
