Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0376881A1] The postcard comprises a main image which may be of the usual format, and one or more secondary images such as illustrations or printed messages supplementary to the main image. The card comprises an outer envelope (1) in the form of a wallet, bearing the main image (20) on the recto and possibly areas for the address and correspondence on the verso. An inner sheet (9) may, for example, slide into this envelope, and bears at least two sets of secondary images (23 to 28) appearing in windows (21) in the envelope. One of these sets may display the portions of the main image (20) which are occupied by the windows, so that this image is complete when the inner sheet (9) is inserted. Other embodiments may have pivoting internal elements, which are rotated by a direct movement or by means of a sliding tag. <IMAGE>
