Abstract (en)

It is formed of a monopiece body (1), made of rigid plastic, with a hollow inside (3), open on both ends (4), as well as by a longitudinal groove (2), and its outside surface opposed to such a groove, is anatomically formed (5-6) to adapt it to the user's hand palm in such a way the the cutting holder (7) accedes to the body inside (1) through the groove (2), and said body (1) becomes the new handle, with a much ampler and comfortable holding surface. The handle may constitute, besides, the exorning head of a key-holder, the complementary case of a lighter, etc.
