Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0379078A1] Tent with a tent awning made from a plurality of material webs and a system of tent poles which stretches the tent awning and is composed of a plurality of tent poles which can be fitted together, the tent poles forming two stretching frames, namely a floor frame (4) and a roof frame (1), which on the one hand stretch the material webs of the tent awning and, on the other hand, are braced in a statically determined manner relative to one another by material webs and/or ropes. The floor frame (4) stretches a flat hollow body serving as the tent floor (3), whereas the roof frame (1) stretches the roof and wall region (9), joined to the tent floor (3), of the tent awning. <IMAGE>
