Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9000272A1] Said wristwatch is comprised of a strap (1) including a housing (2) for the module (3), the module and a ring fastener (7), the profiled extremities (6) of which cooperate with the toes (4) of the module to secure the module. The two parts (8 and 10) of the clasp are linked to the strap by means of two excentrical clamps (11). Said clasp allows the developed length of the wristwatch to be adjusted.
