Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0380440A1] A window or door has a wing fastener which, in addition to the open position and the closed position, has a further position, in which the wing (3) can be opened in a particular region and can be locked in part of this region as a result of the actuation of the wing fastener. When the wing (3) is to be opened completely from a locked region, it must first be closed completely, thereby preventing an intruder from penetrating through the partially open door or the partially open window into the room located behind it. <IMAGE>
