Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0385554A2] In order to simplify an office machine, e.g. a printer, a single input area for single sheets of paper and paper webs is provided upstream of the printing mechanism and has an input channel for manual input of single sheets of paper, a tractor for paper web transport arranged in stationary fashion below the input channel and at least one cartridge which is detachably arranged above the input channel and inclined obliquely forwards for automatically feeding individual sheets of paper. <IMAGE>
