Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0385864A1] Insulating panel comprising a layer of rigid cellular insulating material (5) and a facing covering at least one face (7) of the said layer. The facing is formed from edge-to-edge juxtaposed gypsum plasterboards (8) and the panel furthermore comprises metallic profiled linkage parts (1) housed and immobilised in recesses of the insulating layer which are adjacent to the said face, each linkage part being in contact with two adjacent boards in the plane of the said face and being firmly attached to these boards by means of screws (12) traversing their thickness.
