Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0386387A1] The invention relates to a weblike boundary layer connection between two bodies 1 and 2. The body 2 is composed of a castable material. A structured material 5, which is made of synthetic, permanently fixed filament yarns and whose structured elements 7 are embedded or integrated into the material of the second body 2 during casting, is firmly attached to the surface 4 of the first body 1. <IMAGE>
