Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0386605A1] The invention relates to a breathing protection mask (1) consisting of a strapless mask body (2) with mask window surround (3) and window (4). This strapless breathing protection mask is worn in conjunction with a protection helmet, the breathing protection mask being insertably fastened to the protection helmet by means of an insertion connection. In order to be able to wear the breathing protection mask on its own, i.e. without helmet, an elastic holding part (6) with head straps (5) arranged thereon is provided, which is pulled over the mask window surround (3) and fixed bearing tightly against the mask body (2). <IMAGE>
