Abstract (en)

[origin: US5029360A] A cleaning apparatus for textile machines or the like is provided. A track is disposed above different types of machines. Extending to the side of the machines are suction and/or blowing hoses that are movable transverse to the direction of movement of the cleaning apparatus. This movement is controlled by a parallelogram guide means, which is mounted in such a way via a control mechanism that the parallelogram guide means is laterally displaceable into at least two positions.
