Abstract (en)

[origin: WO8904391A1] In order to mechanize the sewing operation, the inner curves on the contour to be sewn on the two parts are deformed so as to form a straight line and transmitted in this condition to the stitching station. During stitching, the cut-out sleeve is turned appropriately in the region of its circular outer contour.

Abstract (fr)

Afin de mécaniser l'opération de couture, les coudes internes du contour à coudre des deux parties sont déformés de manière à former une ligne droite et transmis dans cet état à la station de couture. Pendant la couture, le patron du manche est tourné de façon correspondante au niveau de son contour extérieur circulaire.
