Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0392939A1] Fabric consisting of thermoplastic threads and of reinforcing threads, comprising in a superposed manner at least two tissues (1, 4) joined integrally to each other, characterised in that in order to obtain a thermoplastic fabric, at least one (1) of the superposed tissues is intended for the reinforcement and comprises predominantly threads (2, 3) made of a reinforcing material, and at least another (4) of the superposed tissues forms a thermoplastic matrix and comprises predominantly threads (5, 6) made of thermoplastic resin, while the interstice (8) between a reinforcing tissue (1) and an adjacent thermoplastic tissue (4) is free of any insert material other than that (7) used to join these two tissues together.
