Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0392971A1] Holder comprising an expanded-plastic block 1, which possesses slots, and a frame 2. Owing to its flexibility, the expanded plastic is capable of receiving various objects, such as tools, implements and other utensils, and, thanks to the adhesion, of firmly holding them ready to hand. In addition, cables can be looped therein. It can also serve as a sales aid (display) and/or as a holding device for transportation. It is easy to mount, since it can have a self-adhesive mounting face or can be strengthened by a holding device made of metal, wood, plastic or another material, which can either be stuck on or screwed on tight. <IMAGE>
