Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0404983A1] Installation brick or block, having in particular a foamed moulding (4), in which the pipes and components (5, 6, 7) required for supplying and draining a sanitary apparatus and the fastening means necessary for attaching the sanitary apparatus are embedded. A fire-resistant compound (10) spread substantially over the entire brick area is moulded into the brick between the front and rear wall (8) and (9), respectively, so that on fitting the installation brick into a wall (3), said wall complies immediately with the fire grading required by the building regulations.
