Abstract (en)
[origin: WO8907560A1] The invention relates to a flexible receptacle comprising a cylindrical support portion (1) of a durable fabric and an inner bag (4) of a thin plastic film. Known inner bags have a low durability in comparison with the support portion. The chances of the inner bag (4) of remaining undamaged in case of a push in the longitudinal direction of the receptacle are improved, if the inner bag has the form of an ellipsoid, the greatest diameter of which considerably exceeds the diameter of the support portion (1).
