Abstract (en)

This invention relates to a cleansing composition which is not harmful to human skin and is environmentally safe. The composition may be prepared by mixing mint oil, lemon oil, rhubarb powder, rice powder, and additives together to form a mixture to which is then added an equal volume of cryolite powder treated water to form the finished product. The cleansing composition does not contain irritant, toxic, or corrosive substances. The composition can be used for cleaning utensils, leather, glass, clothes, tiles, walls and wooden furniture. The composition provides a sterilizing effect and facilitates the treatment of the waste-water of houses and factories.
