Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0411480A2] A test carrier having an undercarriage and an orifice located in the undercarriage and dimensioned for a turret or the like comprises a combat-space container inserted exchangeably into the orifice. The combat-space container comprises a basket connected releasably to the undercarriage and a roof connected releasably to the basket. At the same time, the basket carries essentially invariable subassemblies and/or devices, whilst the roof carries subassemblies and/or devices to be varied relatively frequently. <IMAGE>
