Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0413058A1] The invention relates to a holder for draping curtains and for attachment to a wall. The draping of relatively large amounts of curtain material for decorating door or window openings requires great experience. One difficulty, in particular, is visually attractive pleating. To facilitate the draping process, a holder (10) is provided with at least two recesses in the shape of two U-shaped portions (14, 15), into which parts of the curtain material can be placed in each case. <IMAGE>
