Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0420163A1] On the operating side of the device, there is at least one issuing slot, which is assigned in spatial terms a controllable closing mechanism in the form of a slide arranged movably on the rear side of the issuing slot and having at least one slot-like adaptation matched to the issuing slot. The closing mechanism consists of an extension piece (7) which is connected rigidly to the slide and which is coupled mechanically to an eccentrically mounted drive element (8), in such a way that, in the event of a rotational movement of the drive element (8), the slide (4) is movable between one of the two dead-centre positions and a middle position out of a blocking position into an opening position, and vice versa.
