Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0426506A1] Packaging pot for a solid gel-like product, particularly a food product such as a baked custard (custard tart) or a similar product, with a lateral wall and a base deformable in response to pressure exerted on the said base in order to expel the contents of the pot out of the latter. The base (13) is at least partially domed and may have its curvature inverted from a first condition in which it projects towards the outside of the pot to a second condition in which it is housed inside the pot. <IMAGE>
