Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0428436A1] Stirrup leather support for a riding saddle (1), arranged so as to receive a stirrup leather (4) supporting a stirrup (5), characterised in that it is equipped with a pivoting piece (12) delimiting two possible adjustment positions for the stirrup leather, a first position (4a) in front of said piece (12) when raised, which forms a stop for the stirrup leather, and a second, drawn-back position (4b), in which the piece (12) is folded down. <??>This support makes it possible for the rider easily to find his position on the saddle, whatever the shape and ability of the rider.
