Abstract (en)

The invention relates to a modular partition wall intended for constructing prefabricated premises. It is formed by assembling solid or glazed panels (2 and 3) which are edged by a retention framework which comprises mullions (4) and gussets (5). According to the invention, the modular partition wall may be constructed either according to the method for self-supporting single-piece panels or according to the technique of framework lined with added-facing (cladding) panels. In order to do this, the mullions (4) are formed from two symmetrical assembly profiles (7 and 8) which are assembled by means of an intermediate connection clip (9) which constitutes internal connection means. The invention is of interest to manufacturers of prefabricated partition walls. <IMAGE>

Abstract (fr)

L'invention est relative à une cloison modulaire destinée à construire des locaux préfabriqués. Elle est formée d'un assemblage de panneaux (2 et 3) pleins ou vitrés bordés par une ossature de soutien qui comprend des montants (4) et couvre-joints (5). Selon l'invention, la cloison modulaire peut être construite, soit selon le procédé des panneaux monoblocs autoporteurs, soit selon la technique de l'ossature garnie de panneaux de revêtement rapporté. Pour cela, les montants (4) sont formés de deux profils d'assemblage symétriques (7 et 8) assemblés par un clips de liaison intermédiaire (9) qui constitue des moyens de liaison interne. L'invention concerne les fabricants de cloisons préfabriquées. <IMAGE>
