Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9005678A2] Container for transporting objects, in particular a removal box made of corrugated cardboard. A gripping hole is provided in each of the facing front walls of the container. A tab (19, 17) partially stamped from an extension (13, 16) of the front wall and folded is inserted through the gripping hole. Each extension (13, 16) has a folding line (12) about which it is folded through approximately 180 DEG . After folding, the additional folding line (14) lies in the region of the corresponding gripping hole (11).
