Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9006160A1] Track (46) for model railways with a support simulating, for example, a superstructure provided with ballast. The support comprises a support (11) of elastic and/or plastic, preferably elastoplastic, material. The upper side has recesses (15) essentially complementary to the track grate (1) so that the latter can be inserted at least over a part of the height of the sleepers (2). The underside of the support bar (11) is provided with stiffeners or struts (17, 18).
