Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0447925A2] The invention relates to a table-type piece of work furniture, particularly for schools, comprising a frame-type structure with a horizontal or virtually horizontal working surface. In order to provide for such a piece of work furniture to be used if necessary as an upholstered-type piece of furniture for sitting but without using the working surface, an upholstered seating surface (6,8) with an upholstered backrest (7,9) is designed within the structure (2) and beneath the working surface (4) and the seating surface (6,8) with the backrest (7,9) may be brought into the sitting position by rotating it through an angle of around 90 DEG . <IMAGE>
