Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0452943A2] The invention relates to a method and a device for applying a liquid onto bottles, in which the bottles are conveyed with spacing over a part of the transport path in abutment against at least one application element and, during this process, receive liquid on at least part of their external surface while rotating. In order to permit the application of liquid with the smallest possible amounts of liquid yet in a uniform manner, the invention provides for the liquid to be applied to the application element by means of spray nozzles which move at a distance from the application element. <IMAGE>
