Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0456633A1] A retainer for window or door shutters exhibits a limit stop (3) on the wall side and a pivotable clamping jaw (5) opposite it, the same distance away as the thickness of the shutter. The limit stop (3) and shutter (7) overlap by means of a form-fit connection, for example by means of a projection (8) screwed onto the shutter (7) in the form of a strip, which engages into a recess (10) in the form of a lengthwise groove in the limit stop (3), so that when the shutter (7) is stopped, it is also prevented from coming off its hinges. <IMAGE>
