Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0457072A1] The invention relates to an anti-splash screen for separating a shower place, in particular for a bath. The anti-splash screen comprises a U-shaped pivoting hoop (5) whose first leg (7) is carried in such a way that it pivots around a first vertical axis on or in front of a fixed room wall (1) or similar, whilst the second leg (8) carries two self-supporting flaps (12, 13) on each side, which may be pivoted into an extended position around a second vertical axis. <IMAGE>
