Abstract (en)

[origin: DE3837175A1] The invention relates to a marking element for labelling or marking wood, in particular tree trunks, which is to be used for the production of paper. It contains a marking body (1) which has a mark (5) or serves as mark. Arranged thereon is at least one fastening part (2) which serves for fastening in the wood to be marked. The marking element consists of a plastic material which is chemically decomposed and degraded or dissolved when the wood which has been labelled or marked thereby is chemically treated during the course of the paper production. <IMAGE>
