Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0465257A1] A display package consisting of a display carton having a recess in one edge adapted to house a display tube. The recess is disposed between the slots (30) in the carton which extend around the edge into adjacent panels of the carton. The slots have rounded edges to avoid tearing. Foldlines (35,37,39,41) extend between the slots. The recess is formed by pushing the carton between the slots so that it inverts by folding around the fold lines. The fold lines are preferably positioned so as to result in a non-rectangular cross section for the recess. This helps secure the tube neatly in place whilst facilitating insertion of the tube in the recess. <IMAGE>
