Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0466068A2] A package comprising a moisture-impermeable sheet material and a moisture-impermeable package film sealedly bonded onto said sheet material. The package has first spaces to respectively contain articles to be packed, second spaces to respectively contain drying agents, and communicating spaces having a small area in its cross-section and respectively communicating the first spaces and the second spaces, between the sheet material and the package film. The articles to be packed and the drying agents are respectively contained in the first spaces and the second spaces, being held without contacting each other interposing the respective communicating spaces. <IMAGE>
