Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0467200A1] The invention relates to a cover (10) for a bottle crate (12), in particular for a beer crate, having an essentially plate-type lid (14), having an engagement part (16), which engages non-positively and/or positively in a recess (13) of the crate (12) on one side, and having a further engagement part (24a) on the opposite side of the crate, which engagement part engages non-positively and/or positively in a recess (13a) of the crate. The cover is distinguished by the fact that at least one engagement part is constructed as a closure mechanism (20) which is mounted on the lid and has at least one swivellable closure part (24) which engages in a recess (13a) of the crate in its closure position and thus fixes the lid on the crate and can be retained in this closure position. <IMAGE>
