Abstract (en)
An integrally formed flexible razor head (10) having a plurality of blade platforms (70) separated by a corrugation (60), at least one blade (20 or 30) having a cutting edge (21 or 31), and a plurality of blade retainers (40) which are integrally formed with the blade platforms (70) and extend to positions above and adjacent to the top surface of the blade (20,30). While the blade retainers (40) are integrally formed with the other pieces of the flexible razor head (10), each blade retainer (40) is discrete with respect to other blade retainers (40). <IMAGE>
